Hi Mark,

As we discussed earlier, an email was sent from OPS Detective Constable Stephane Quesnel to OPP Insp Brian Barclay. The email stated that Chief Sloly was requesting every HENDON report since its inception. I can assure you as the OIC of Ottawa Intelligence that OPS has received every report that HENDON produced from its inception in January-February 2020 to current – meaning yesterday as today's report has not yet been disseminated. The reports began in early 2020 as daily disseminations and with daily calls with partners to address matters of criminal extremism and large-scale protest. As the situation in 2020 diminished in terms of impact, the reports became weekly and the calls became less frequent as well. Over the period of HENDON's activity – approx. 25 months – this frequency has reflected the urgency of activity related to criminal extremism and associated matters. Any increased operational focus on matters was preceded by a HENDON teleconference to discuss matters and direct reporting – by way of example this occurred near the end of 2021 in relation to gathering information on threats to Chief Medical Officers of Health.

Most recently, (on January 21st) our HENDON leadership organized a HENDON-wide teleconference to focus on the Freedom Convoy and its impact, as follows:

Hello Hendon Partners,

Please call in Friday, 21 January 2022, at 11:00 hours for information and roundtable discussion concerning an ideologically motivated social protest with impacts for public safety province-wide. The evolving nationwide movement may begin mobilizing 22 January 2022. Your participation in this call would be greatly appreciated toward ensuring all stakeholders are situationally aware and prepared.

Subsequent to this call, HENDON then began disseminating reports on a daily basis from January 24th – and we started daily calls with all stakeholders (including OPS) on that day. We made a decision to miss one HENDON call on Sunday 6 February.

In terms of the request for the reports by Chief Sloly, OPS already has all of the reports HENDON has ever produced as well as our subsequent intelligence reports supplied on 5 February and 9 February to yourself and Insp Bryden for this event. The persons from OPS currently invited to this call (apart from yourself and Insp Bryden) are:

Lemieuxi@ottawapolice.ca;
BourisG@ottawapolice.ca;
KiezC@ottawapolice.ca;
SpecialEvents@ottawapolice.ca;
QuesnelS@ottawapolice.ca;

Apart from those individuals, former participants/invitees included:

BernierR@ottawapolice.ca;

RenwickC@ottawapolice.ca;

If there is anything else you guys need, please let me know.
